EVEN IF YOU'RE A SEASONED BEACHGOER, THERE'S STILL SO MUCH TO LEARN.

Sanibel Island offers world-class beachcombing, birding, and wildlife watching opportunities. There is so much waiting to be discovered here! Join our knowledgeable marine science educators for a casual guided beach walk to explore what's washed ashore. We will talk about some of the more mysterious objects we find on the beach, look for fascinating animals, and learn a little bit of shell biology. Your guide will be happy to answer any questions you might have along the way. No two beach walks are ever the same – the sea has a way of surprising us!

Meeting Location: Front Desk. Look for our staff in red Sanibel Sea School shirts to greet you.

Prepare for your ocean adventure:

- Lather up with mineral-based sunscreen. Wear additional sun protection, such as a hat and sunglasses.
- Fill a reusable water bottle if you'd like to stay hydrated during the walk.
- Step into your best walking shoes and bring a small bucket or shell bags if you wish to collect treasures to take home!
- The bugs can be plenty, especially first thing in the morning. The best defense is long sleeves and pants. We'll have some bug lotion ready for you, too, if needed.
